Appl. No. 10/701,945 Response dated August 7, 2008 Reply to Office action of May 7, 2008

Amendments to the Abstract:

Please replace the Abstract with the following amended Abstract:

A method and system is disclosed for managing funds within separate accounts.—The invention permits a distributor to market and an investor to purchase a single product that combines the benefits of a family of funds with the protection element of a death benefit or living benefit. To create the product, a legal entity issues an instrument typically stock comprised of a common stock and a preference stock having beneficial rights. The holder of a beneficial right controls the investment allocations over funds within separate accounts. The value of the preferred shares will be based on the value of underlying shares invested in separate account funds. The separate accounts are not available to satisfy the company's general or common stock obligations.